GFWC Executive Committee Visits the White House

Last Tuesday, our Executive Committee toured the 2023 White House Holiday Display, which was themed “Magic, Wonder, and Joy.” Seventeen GFWC representatives, including Executive Committee Members, Special Assistants, and Staff, enjoyed this special tour of the decorations that took over 300 volunteers a week to complete. Approximately 14,975 feet of ribbon, over 350 candles, over 33,892 ornaments, and over 22,100 bells were used this year to decorate the White House.

Special thanks to U.S. Representative Laurel Lee of Florida's 15th Congressional District for arranging the tour.

2023 Miss DC Send-Off hosted at GFWC Headquarters

On Wednesday, December 6, the Executive Committee co-hosted a send-off celebration for Miss District of Columbia as she prepares to compete for the title of Miss America.

Jude Maboné is a heart health and athlete safety advocate, a small business owner, and an active community member serving with Children's National Hospital, the Honor Flight Network, and various other organizations in the District. Her diagnosis of heart disease at age sixteen led her to begin her community service initiative, "Check Your Heart," which provides preemptive heart screenings and AED devices for young people.

The celebration was hosted in coordination with GFWC District of Columbia as a membership recruitment event.

GFWC and The National Coast Guard Museum: Paving the Way for Connection

"My siblings and I decided to order a commemorative paver for our father, Harry O. Taylor, Jr., who passed away in 2004. So grateful to the General Federation of Women's Clubs for getting this information out to the many clubs throughout the nation. We are extremely proud of our father's service in WWII and a wonderful way to memorialize him. Oh, the stories he would tell! God bless all our men and women who have served and continue to serve this great nation!" – Grace Tesoro, GFWC Botetourt Town & Country Women's Club (VA)

The Benefits of a Mentoring Program in Your Club

By: Jan Allen, GFWC Membership Committee Member

Do you need help getting members to step up into leadership positions? Are your members having fun? Are they learning and growing when it comes to GFWC? How about change? Do members get excited about starting new projects?

Here's how to put all these aspects of membership development into perspective.

Think 70-20-10.

- 70% of your members' learning comes from actual hands-on experience. ("You give it a try." Or "How would you do this?")
- 20% of your members' learning comes from interpersonal exchanges. (Spend time with other members and get to know them and their GFWC experiences.)
- 10% of your members learn from formal training. ("Here is the manual." OR "This is how we do this.")

"Mentoring is a shared opportunity for learning and growth. Mentors say that the rewards they gain are as substantial as those for their mentees." (Partnership 4

Kids | Long-term Support for Lifelong Success. <https://p4k.org/>) Mentoring | FTG. <https://www.fiercelyctg.org/mentoring>)

The benefits of mentoring include:

- Having fun. Working with someone else is always more fun.
- Growing and learning.
- Improving Self-esteem. Feel like you are making a difference.
- Greater appreciation of diversity (thought, word, & deed).
- Feeling more productive.
- Enhancing relationships.

Are you mentor-ready?

It would help if you had a sincere desire to be involved in the development of a member. You will need to show mutual respect. Everyone has something to offer. Are your listening skills ready for this opportunity? Can you show empathy? You will need to share solutions and opportunities. Lastly, flexibility is critical.

- Here's how to get started:
- Decide on a time commitment. Are we mentoring a committee chair or a member to be club president?
- What skills are you, the mentor, bringing to the relationship, and what skills does the mentee bring?
- When do you start? And how do you know your objective is complete?
- What activities do you plan to engage in – sharing roles, shadowing, feedback, etc.?

Remember, mentoring amplifies positive change, one relationship at a time.

The Benefits of Planning

By: Suzanne Simons, GFWC Leadership Committee

Do you know the importance of a club, district, state, or region Strategic Plan? It is your GPS to GFWC's future, and everyone benefits. To use a GPS, enter the address or place to travel to and then follow the prompts. It's the same with your club's strategic plan. Plan what you want to accomplish, how you will get there, and how long it should take. Remember that you can always reroute as needed.

Planning where you're going and how to get there offers several benefits:

1. Clarity: It provides a clear destination and goals, helping you stay focused on what you want to achieve.
2. Efficiency: Planning enables you to identify the most efficient routes and methods to reach your destination, saving time and resources.
3. Motivation: A plan can boost motivation and commitment, giving you a roadmap and a sense of purpose.
4. Risk Reduction: Planning allows you to anticipate potential obstacles and risks by developing strategies to overcome them more easily.
5. Accountability: It helps you track progress, hold yourself accountable, and adjust your course as needed.
6. Prioritization: Planning helps you prioritize tasks and allocate resources effectively, ensuring you tackle the most important aspects first.
7. Flexibility: While planning is crucial, flexibility allows for adjustments and adaptations as circumstances change.
8. Confidence: Knowing where you're going and how to get there can boost your confidence, making it more likely that you'll achieve your goals.

For more Strategic Planning information, go to GFWC.org and log into the Member Portal. In the Digital Library under "S," you will find many resources to help you get started.
